

Terms and Conditions

9 February 2016

The following terms and conditions apply for tickets purchased for the think.BDPST conference:

- Tickets are non-transferable as each customer receives a personalised voucher upon purchasing his or her ticket. In addition, no exchange of tickets will be made under any circumstances.
- No refund on tickets will be made under any circumstances except in case of event cancellation and vis maior (including but not limited to war, revolution, natural disaster, or not foreseeable political events).
- Customers are asked to show their vouchers in order to receive their badges. Badges can be collected on the spot from 4:30pm onward on 8 March, and 8am onward on 9-10 March.
- A third party will not be allowed to collect the ticket of a customer unless authorised in writing to do so.
- The resale of tickets is forbidden. The Antall József Knowledge Centre has the right to cancel tickets that have been resold.
- The Antall József Knowledge Centre may refuse admission to any persons whose conduct is disorderly or unbecoming.
- think.BDPST is the trademark of the Antall József Knowledge Centre. Therefore, no audio or video recording is allowed during the conference unless having the written consent of the statutory representative of the Knowledge Centre. Moreover, although the event is open to the press, performers and speakers might have an objection against being photographed. Guests, therefore, are kindly asked to refrain from taking pictures.
- The Antall József Knowledge Centre reserves the right to change the programme.
- The conference will receive high publicity and will be recorded in its entirety. With attending the conference, the customer agrees to have his or her image reused in promotional photographs or his or her likeness appear in any live or recorded video display.
- The Knowledge Centre may cancel, interrupt, or stop the event in case foul weather, dangerous situations or any other circumstances beyond its control occur.
- Customers may expect an airport-style check-in at the conference venues and might be subjected to hand over prohibited items including but not limited to weapons or dangerous substances.
- Information collected during the registration process shall remain confidential and shall conform to the privacy policy outlined below.
- Any complaints regarding the event will be directed to and dealt with by the project manager and the statutory representative of the Knowledge Centre.

Privacy Policy

The privacy policy applies to information collected during the registration process. Information provided during registration shall remain confidential and shall not be given to a third party for commercial purposes. Subcontractors working with the Knowledge Centre may come to get to know some of the information provided. However, they shall be bound by contract to keep it confidential. All the information collected will be used for your badge, to process transactions, or to send periodic emails. The email address provided during your registration may be used to provide you with updates and notifications regarding the conference. Please let us know if you would like to unsubscribe from receiving further emails. Please be informed that we take various steps to keep your personal information safe. By using our site, you consent to our privacy policy.

If you have questions regarding the registration process, please contact management@think.bdpst.org, or with general questions info@think.bdpst.org.
